CHEMICAL RESTRAINTS
are pharmaceutical drugs used to sedate someone so that they can be more easily controlled in a crisis or perceived crisis situation.

This speakers' panel is in response to the recent, tragic death of Vaneesa Hopson after being chemically restrained.

Our community needs a wider range of skills, resources, tools and spaces for individuals experiencing non-medical crisis. Join us in identifying alternatives and building skills and networks for de-escalation.
